Berlin Orders Resistance In Ruhr Stopped

Stresemann Announces Immediate Resumption Of Work
In Mine District

OCCUPATION IS ALLEVIATED

Poincare Will Communicate
With London When Germany Starts Action

By Associated Press
Berlin—Germany has decided to end unconditionally her weaponless
and moral fight against the occupation
of her economic stronghold, the Ruhr,
and an immediate resumption of work
has been ordered in all fields of activity affected by the policy of passive resistance.

Chancellor Stresemann, making this announcement Monday night after a long conference with representatives of labor, industry and the civilian populations of the Ruhr and Rhine-
land, said the government's present
efforts would be directed toward obtaining the release of prisoners and the return of taxes. Attempts to accomplish these purposes as well
as to obtain guarantees of the restoration of German sovereignty in the occupied region had been unsuccessful,
the chancellor said, thus passive resistance had lost its purpose and had become even harmful to the best interests of the country.

The conference at which the decision to capitulate was made was attended by 300 Germans representing all political parties.

"In the course of battle," he chancelled said, "it sometimes becomes necessary to surrender or evacuate a fortress because it requires too many men, too much food and too much ammunition."

Announcement of the government's decision was given to the newspapers
after the conclusion of the discussion.

MILDER OCCUPATION
Paris—Premier Poincare's next move in view of Germany's economic surrender will be to ask the international commission to deal with the new situation, it was indicated Tuesday. As soon as the German government officially withdraws
its resistance orders, directions will be sent General DeGoutte to make the Ruhr occupation as nearly "invisible"
as possible.

The action of the German government Monday is not regarded here as finally clearing the situation in the Ruhr. The resistance there will be considered as ended when Berlin withdraws all orders given the functionaries and people of the Ruhr to resist
the authorities of occupation.

The French premier and his associates in the cabinet appear to have received the news soberly and without the thrill which it has given the French people and the authorities, and having long expected the German decision, Premier Poincare is at his summer home in Compiègne, will return Tuesday night. The passing over of the pending problems to the reparation commission would be merely a formality. Consequently it is foreseen Premier Poincare's first order will be to arrive at an understanding with the British government
as to what shall be done.

Premier Poincare will communicate with the British premier as to what Berlin has taken the first direct step toward a settlement.

The French premier's general view
is understood, is that the reparation
commission should avoid directions of a too specific nature to Chancellor Stresemann as to the expedi-
ents to be employed in straightening
out Germany's tangled finances.

Oregon Girls Kidnaped By Unknown Men

By Associated Press
Madison—Vivian Flint and Nora Thorkelsen, both 10 years of age, of Oregon, are reported to have been kidnaped Monday afternoon by two young men in a big enclosed automobile. Sheriff Julius Krug here, has been appealed to for assistance.

Reports state that the two girls were accosted by the men who drove up in front of the school house. They were asked to "go for a ride." Neither of the girls has been seen since.
An all night search of the county was conducted by S. P. Thorkelsen father
of one of the girls, and his son T. J.
Thorkelsen.

STATE RESTS CASE IN WARD MURDER TRIAL

Prosecution Seeks To Prove Slayer Attempted To Secure Father's Money

By Associated Press
White Plains, N. Y.—Shortly after the opening of court Tuesday the state rested its case in the prosecution of Walter S. Ward, charged with murdering Clarence Peters of Haverhill, Mass., and the court adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The action on the part of the prosecution came unexpectedly. It had been thought that presentation of the state's case would take at least several days more. The announcement was made following a conference at which Ralph Ward, brother of the accused man, was present.

Walter S. Ward's trial for the murder of Clarence Peters opened Tuesday with two of its expected thrills gone by with much interest hanging on the opinion of the president as to the defendant's story of blackmail as a reason for the killing was merely a fabrication and merely a means of getting money from his wealthy father, George S. Ward. The two thrills came Monday.

WIFE TAKES STAND

One when Beryl Curtis Ward, wife
of the accused, took the stand and told of her husband's return home on the night of the shooting. The other was that when her husband, mother
of the slain ex-soldier, testified that her son was "a good boy" and that despite his little brushes with the law
and his inability to hold a steady job
he had never been in serious trouble.
The only definite legal hint as to what the plot could have been was an affidavit read to the jury last week.
It was made by James Cunningham,
race track follower. It charged that George S. Ward was victimized by a son who was used in a plot with
"Rogers" and "Rogers" the much sought blackmailer.

The older Ward did not pay, but
"started an investigation," the affidavit read.

COURT GIVES FINAL VERDICT ON PATENT

By Associated Press
Madison—A decision in the case of Burrows Battery Laboratories vs. the French Battery and Carbon Co., a patent case which has taken more than a year to complete, was handed down by the Wisconsin supreme court
Tuesday by Judge E. Ray Stevens.
Both parties are virtually winners in the case.

The Burrows company is granted
the right to the electric patent, a process most valuable in the manufacture of dry cell batteries, while the French Battery company was awarded the right to a number of other patents in question.

The suit had cost each company
over $50,000.

LOWER FREIGHT MAY HELP WHEAT FARMER

President Coolidge and Cabinet
Consider Northwestern Agri-

By Associated Press
Washington—Reduction of freight rates on wheat and flour destined for export and increase of the present tariff on wheat, were considered by President Coolidge and his cabinet Tuesday as possible remedies for the ills of the wheat farmers of the northwest.

The discussion which resulted in no
definite decision followed presentation
by Secretary Wallace of a report of the world situation prepared at the direction of Mr. Coolidge. Both plans in the opinion of the president are worthy of serious consideration, and
as neither require action by congress,
it was believed that the president has no wise changed his mind against calling congress in special session.

SUICIDE BLAMES MOON IN LETTER

By Associated Press
Oakbrook—Herbert Pommerich, aged 41, committed suicide by hanging in the barn at the rear of his residence,
presumably some time during Monday evening. His lifeless body was found Tuesday morning by John G. Just, of Green Bay, a friend, and Mrs. Walter Reininger, who lives upstairs in the same residence.

A note which he left did away with
any doubt as to the cause of his death.
The note read: "Best. I am awaken'd wake me. What caused me to do this was moonshine," and he named
three or four places in Wisconsin.
While those names were not connected
up grammatically with the foregoing statement, they are supposed to indicate that he had purchased liquor
at each of them.

Despatch To Bulgar Legation Says Revolt Is Scattered And Well Under Control Of Loyal Troops

By Associated Press
Paris—The official version of the situation in Bulgaria as set forth in dispatches by the Bulgarian legation here
Tuesday was as follows:

The Soviet movement is scattered,
being confined to small settlements
among which there is no cohesion and which have little power of resistance.
The work of repression is very difficult because the movement is most general in the mountainous regions
and the small Bulgarian army has insufficient strength to deal with such scattered uprisings over a widespread area. When troops are able to reach the scene of an outbreak the Communists surrender immediately, and generally it is not necessary for the troops to use violence.

The life of the Soviet regime in the localities where it has been established
has been between two and fourteen hours in length.

NORTH MOST AFFECTED

Northern Bulgaria is now the region
most affected. The Soviets in the south appear to have been discouraged by the prompt action of the authorities. Their last attempt at asserting power was when they cut the communications between Sofia and Constantinople, but these lines have been reestablished and order has been restored.

Conflicting stories of the situation
in Bulgaria were current Monday night. A despatch to the London Morning Post, dated Belgrade, said that the revolution has burst into full flame and that the entire country was in the hands of rebels who had destroyed all means of communication.
Sofia was said to be short of food
and threatened with an attack.

A Sofia despatch on the other hand quoted a semi-official statement, issued Monday as saying that peace
had been restored in the south, although several centers of Communist dissimulation still existed in the north. The Paris newspaper, Le Journal received a despatch to the same effect.

TROOPS INADEQUATE
Sofia—The government announced Sunday that the situation created by the Communist uprising, both in northern and southern Bulgaria, is in control of the military forces used by civilian volunteers. Sporadic outbreaks are continuing however, and the Communist made an attempt Saturday
night to capture the telephone and telegraph wires by cutting the wires
leading from the central office at Sofia and from the artillery barracks.

The authorities have discovered several centers of Communist dissimulation in the north. The government has issued orders to the military forces in the north and western part of the country
with the idea of leading the volunteers
to suppress the revolt on the ground that the work will be unavailing.

They're off!
Twenty automobiles entered in the biggest membership race that probably was ever promoted in Appleton lined up to the mark in four divisions.
At the crack of the pistol shot fired
by George L. Goodwin, starter, twenty speed demons, each accompanied by seven assistant drivers, dashed off
and began burning up the dust on the 1,500 mile track that leads from Appleton through Wisconsin, Minnoso-tia, Iowa, Illinois and back.

Promoter F. J. Harwood, who had been busy for weeks preparing for this event, dropped back into his chair
and rubbed his hands with satisfaction, not having anything else to rub them with.

The four division judges, W. G.
Commentz, G. E. Packard, W. O.
Thiele and Frank Wright, tried to hold down their seats with the gravity becoming members of the robe and wig, but the excitement of the contest had taken most of the magnetism
out of their chairs.

help things along, the drivers and their
crews made a dash for their numbers,

Wassau—Anton Brel of Stratford,
aged 22 years, was accidentally shot
through the heart and instantly killed late Monday at that place. The de-

secure a pistol from William Spindler, aged 28, with which to kill some bogs. He was given an automatic pistol but it contained two cartridges
he was unable to remove. He asked Mr. Spindler to remove them and he attempted the task. One was removed safely when the second was discharged
the ball passing through Mr. Brel's

not necessary, there being no doubt
but that the shooting was purely acci-

PRESIDENT NOT PACIFIST

Administration Believes America Has Done Enough For Peace Of World

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 By Post Pub. Co.

Washington—President Coolidge
Monday made his first long speech.
Relatively speaking it was brief—not more than a thousand words but it says more than the chief executive
has been willing to say publicly since he took office. Although there is no direct reference to foreign policy in the speech he delivered to the annual convention of the American Red Cross here there are principles enunciated in it which will without doubt chart the course of Mr. Coolidge in world affairs.

For one thing, Mr. Coolidge is not an out-and-out pacifist. He says that while force is not the "ultimate ruler
of mankind," nevertheless "regardless of the use of these forces" he regards as significant that great nations
have agreed upon limitation of armament
and that civilization is "coming to rely more and more upon moral force."

Using the Red Cross idea as a symbol of a policy of practical idealism,
the president argues that its appeals
have been effective because they have been "directly to the conscience of mankind" without "any element of compulsion."

NEED PRACTICAL ACTION
"The ancient ideals of human brotherhood, of service, the application of the golden rule of love, of earth and good will towards men are idle dreams," says President Coolidge
"unless they can be translated into practical action."

At this point Mr. Coolidge does not outline what course would be one of
"practical action" in the present disturbed state of world affairs but he says guardedly that "it is necessary,
on the one hand, to avoid the illusions of the idealists, and on the other hand, the indifference of the selfish."
This idea of not going to extremes in either direction but steering in the middle of the lane was the late President Harding's reiterated doctrine of caution. Mr. Coolidge insists also that "each individual and each nation owe their first duty to themselves" and that beyond that there is "the obligation of the strong
to serve the weak but to administer
such service in a way that will not destroy or degrade by making mendic-ants but will restore and strengthen
by making character."

AMERICA HAS DONE ENOUGH
This is in a nutshell an expression of the American government's policy which indicates that Mr. Coolidge adopts almost wholly the attitude of his predecessor in believing that America has done enough for Europe.

There are those in European chan-nelers who believe the peace of the world was not secure when America withdrew from European affairs and that the sudden departure of American power and influence contributed much to the chaos of reconstruction
out of which Europe has been struggling to emerge, but the view usually taken in the Washington government
since the war whenever the subject is raised by Europeans, is that America
has not been responsible—a conflict of opinion which time and history may some day resolve. The interesting thing is that President Coolidge announces virtually a hands off policy in Europe at least, until Europe shall help itself and work out her own salvation.

Seventy Die In Flooded Glasgow Pit

By Associated Press
Glasgow—Seventy lives are believed to have been lost Tuesday when a deep pit at the James Nimmo company's colliery near Falkirk was flooded.

The water which flooded the pit
broke through the walls of an adjoining pit which had not been used for years. The active pit was flooded so quickly that there was no opportunity to warn the miners. They had no chance to get to the pit hold and only one man escaped after the rush of water.

GOUGH PAPERS REFUSE STRIKE CHIEFS' OFFER

Newspapers Double In Size Despite Absence Of Local Union Workers

By Associated Press
New York—Despite the fact that
New York newspaper publishers refused to take back their striking pres-
men unless full terms of an agreement
signed with the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' union
were met the combined morning newspapers issued since the strike began
a week ago were doubled in size
Tuesday.

Each paper had fourteen pages and
for the first time since the walkout
display advertising appeared to an appreciable extent. Editorials however,
still were absent.

The offer of the pressmen to return to work was conditional. Foreman
visited the publishers, it was stated,
and said they would bring their crews
back under the provisions of the agreement with the International providing they would not be compelled to recognize George Berry of the organization. They also would not recognize David Simons, head of Local 26,
which had its charter revoked by Mr. Berry.
The publishers, however, refused, telling the men they must recognize the international union and obtain cards
from it.

TURKS SPECULATE ON NEW GOVERNMENT

Constantinople—The question of the form and name of the new Turkish
state, which must be settled before Turkey is able to resume full diplomatic relations with the rest of the world, is absorbing attention here and in Ankara.

It is virtually certain that Turkey
will be declared a republic, the head of the government, being either a president or a chief of state, as in Pe-land. The first occupant of the executive office is expected to be Mustapha Kemal Pasha, who in a recent interview said that Turkey was in ready a republic except in name and constitution, and might soon become even more democratic.

The seat of the government is also a question of wide discussion which will be determined concurrently with the designation of the state.

Governor Calls On All Male Citi- zens Between 21 And 45 Years Of Age

PLEDGE IS IRREVOCABLE

Proposed Session Said To Be Unlawful And Dominated
By Klu Klux

By Associated Press
Oklahoma City—State troops, with orders from Governor J. C. Walton,
to use all force of arms if necessary,
were being marshalled here Tuesday,
to prevent the impeachment session of the lower house of the Oklahoma legislature called for noon Wednesday.

Determined legislators gathered manwhile to lay final plans for attempting to meet in defiance of the executive.

Irrevocably pledged to his course,
Governor Walton Monday night issued instructions to Adjutant General B.
H. Markham, to draw upon all the military forces of the state if necessary to block the proposed assembly.
Expressing the hope that no excessive measures would be required, Governor Walton asserted nevertheless
"shoot to kill" orders would be given
the troops should such drastic action
be necessary to disperse legislators.

CALLS FOR ASSISTANCE
With the crisis approaching, the executive commanded all male citizens of the state between the ages of 21 and 45 years to hold themselves in readiness to "come to the assistance
of the sovereign State of Oklahoma,"
when summoned by the governor or the adjutant general. The "citizen soldiers" were ordered to prepare to bear such arms as they possess, or are able to obtain.

The governor's order declared that the proposed house session would be an unlawful assembly dominated by the Ku Klux Klan, which organization
under his martial law proclamation is declared to be an enemy of the State of Oklahoma. Furthermore, he charged the meeting would be "in defiance and violation of the statutes of the state of Oklahoma, now under military law, and also contrary to the constitution and laws of the state." It would be a direct attempt to break
the peace, he asserted.

WILL PREVENT MOVE
If the legislators attempt to hold
the session at any place in the state
other than the state capitol, Adjutant General Markham is instructed to take steps to prevent such a move.

House members, here for the purpose of assembling, were expected to decide upon a course of procedure at a caucus scheduled for Tuesday night.
Representative W. D. McEee who drew the call for the session, and other leaders refused early Tuesday to reveal their plans. Determination
however, to fight to the last ditch for what they claim to be their right to convene and to consider the executive's official acts, was expressed by the house members. That they had no intention to resort to force, but would take their case to the courts,
was the statement of all the legislators interviewed.

BIGAMIST GOES TO CHICAGO TO FACE CHILDREN

Appleton Wife Bids Him Goodby As He Leaves In Custody Of Police

Dependent over the outlook for the future, Hugo A. Cordt, 38, Appleton commercial traveler who asked the financial ability to support a wife, child and shelter two families, one in Chicago, the other in Appleton, left Appleton Monday in the custody of a Chicago police officer.

When Cordt left his cell at the police station in company with Sergeant John J. Byrne of the Chicago police force, at 4 o'clock Monday, Mrs. Mabel Schantz, who had innocently accepted what she thought was a legal status with Cordt a year ago last August, was there to see him off. She had remained near him most of the day.

She went back to her family of three daughters born of a previous marriage to resume her state of widowhood that her divorce from Anton Schantz of New London several years ago had placed her in. It was in much less favorable circumstances she found herself when she married Cordt at Escanaba and set up housekeeping at 893 Pacific street a year ago. The few thousand dollars which was her own property at the time she married Cordt had been reduced to a few hundred dollars through her endeavors to make up for that in which her husband was deficient.

No restitution will be made her in case Cordt is sent to the penitentiary which, according to Chief George T. Peim, is more than likely. Mrs. Schantz does not believe, however, that the original Mrs. Cordt will be inclined to prosecute, as it would be to her disadvantage financially.

Mrs. Schantz having forgiven Cordt for the deception, the confessed bigamist faced another ordeal, that of meeting his four children in Chicago. During his long and many terms of absence he continually corresponded with all of his children. His address in Appleton was not known to the Chicago family. It probably was ascertained through the firm with whom Cordt was employed.

It is expected that the original charge against Cordt, namely that of non-support, will be dropped, and the charge of bigamy taken up in Chicago.

CONSIDER STOVE INDUSTRY TONIGHT

All chamber of commerce members who are interested in obtaining new industries for Appleton are invited by Hugh G. Corbett, secretary, to attend a meeting of the industrial finding committee at the chamber rooms Tuesday evening.

Further consideration will be given at that time to the proposition of a stove company which plans to locate here. Negotiations have been in progress for some time with this company and it is probable a final decision will be reached at this meeting.

COUNTY STILL IS LACKING JAP QUOTA

Red Cross Branches Delay Completion Of Campaign Here For $2,500

Lack of reports or contributions from several Red Cross branches in the county are holding up completion of the campaign here for Japanese relief. It was the hope of Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the fund, that the remaining funds would be received during the day so the final remittance could be sent to the Red Cross central division in Chicago.

The county relief committee lacks $25.00 of the $2,500 quota set by the Red Cross. With only this amount still to be raised, the committee hesitates to declare the campaign closed, and have the county go on record as failing to obtain a few additional dollars needed. The total amount realized to date is $2,475.11.

Two gifts which have not been acknowledged previously are those of William H. Zuchlik and Hettlinger Lumber company. Red Cross branches which still are to report the results of their local campaigns or appropriate part of their treasury balance to this cause are those at Seymour, Bear Creek, Little Chute, Shiocton and Onelida.

HEAR OBJECTIONS TO DRAINAGE PLAN

County Body Is In Session All Day Monday On Joint Project In District No. 3

Hearings were conducted all day Monday at the courthouse by Outagamie co drainage board on the proposal for drainage of district No. 3, a tract of 3,200 acres in Bear Creek, Waupaca co. and Deer Creek, Outagamie co. The board then adjourned its meeting to Monday, Oct. 15.

Objections were raised by a number of land owners within the district, who were represented by Attorney Lewellyn Cole of Clintonville. Some did not wish the project carried through because their particular lands were not in need of drainage, and others objected because they already had such facilities for their soil.

The proposed cost of the drainage project will be about $20,000, the board announced. This figure might be reduced by eliminating part of the land now included in the tract, it is said.

Further arguments will be heard by the board at the meeting Oct. 15, after which recommendations probably will be made to the court.

A hearing on a project in Onelida township is scheduled for Monday of the coming week.

Special tonight for Al. Giesen. Green Bay bus will leave Pettibone's corner 8:30 sharp. All ladies free. Gents 50 cents.

BOY NIMROD SHOTS HIS TOE WITH AIR RIFLE

The first casualty of the hunting season in Appleton is the wounding of a young boy with an air rifle. As he shot off the gun, however, the shot hit the second toe of his left foot and pierced it.

ITCHY PIMPLES ALL OVER FACE Spread and Eruptions Formed. Cuticura Healed.

"My trouble first started with little pimples, that broke out all over my face. Later the pimples would break open and itch badly, and when I scratched them they would spread and sore eruptions formed. The trouble lasted about a year. I began using Cuticura Soap, and Ointment, and the pimples began to improve. I continued using them and now I am completely healed." (Signed) John Hartman, 3119 N. 21st St., Kansas City, Kansas.

Clear the pores of impurities by daily use of Cuticura Soap and occasional use of Cuticura Ointment as needed to soften, soothe and heal. They are ideal for the toilet, as is also Cuticura Talcum for perfuming.

Aldermen Robert McGilligan and Jerry Callahan of the Fourth ward have called a meeting of the taxpayers of their ward at 7:30 Friday evening at the Fourth district school building for the purpose of getting an expression from them concerning the purchase of a 50-acre tract of land for park purposes. The matter of purchasing the tract came before the common council at its meeting Wednesday evening.

Sheldon Business School Representative Addresses Luncheon Club

Members of the Lions and Rotary clubs, Appleton Advertising club and the chamber of commerce were made familiar with community building as it is conducted by the Sheldon school of business science of Rochester, N. Y., at the weekly luncheon of the Lions club at Conway hotel Monday noon.

The speaker was Dr. Robert P. Shepherd, who since leaving Columbia university has given practically all of his time to community development in its commercial and educational phases and who is now associated with Arthur F. Sheldon, founder of the school.

In his address Dr. Shepherd emphasized the perilous underground current which is menacing the life of the nation. He first read from a publication which openly declared that President Harding's death was from poisoning administered to him and was not accidental.

The disintegrating moral standards, the breaking down of justice in the matter of the Herin massacre, the looting of the Chicago school board and municipal treasury and the very apparent moral carelessness with regard to one's obligations, debts and duties were hastily portrayed.

NEED EDUCATION

The main part of the address was the emphasizing of the importance of launching a community-wide campaign of education calculated to reach every man and woman and every boy and girl over ten years of age; this education to be confined to the exposition of the principle of service and the natural laws related to it which determine the success or failure of human associations.

Dr. Shepherd told briefly the story of Dr. Sheldon's passing from the teaching of salesmen to the wider field of community education, and called attention to the success with which this has been carried forward in many places in Pennsylvania, New York and Tennessee and in the northwest. The chamber of commerce of Rochester, N. Y., is at present engaged in putting on a six weeks educational campaign, he said.

PRAISE FOR C. OF C.

The speaker emphasized that Appleton is almost in a class by itself in the efficiency with which the activities of the chamber of commerce function to the strengthening and upbuilding of the city's institutions and individuals.

Now, our education has been hopelessly lacking, declared the speaker. Our churches were not organized and designed for educational purposes and our public schools cannot undertake to give religious instruction, he said.

"You are just beginning a campaign for one of the voluntary educational institutions of the country, and as a conductor of one I want to bear tribute to its value. If you can instill in young men ideals and they can realize those ideals in the best surroundings it is infinitely worth while. I know your interest in the past and present, your interest in the future of Appleton and its manhood will make it possible for you to put over this membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. in 'blend' fashion," declared Dr. Shepherd.

TRADESMAN IS PIONEER

Realizing that the chamber of commerce represents the business men, the speaker said the tradesman is the only pioneer of our civilization. It was the man who went out in the far front and started a place, the tradesman who went out to increase his own buying power with each transaction. Profit is increased buying power that comes through trade, he said.

Dr. Shepherd made use of a blackboard in illustrating many of the theories he advanced. Out of every 100 children that reach the age of 65, 54 will be penniless, 36 will be dead, most of them committing suicide on the installment plan by digging their graves with their teeth, or by not applying the natural laws to physical health. Five of the 100 will be still working, 4 will be in favorable circumstances and only one will be rich. Those are the figures adopted by life insurance companies.

CAUSE AND DEFECT

Malign use of the blackboard Dr. Shepherd called attention to the fact that fire is cause and heat is effect. Getting down to the fundamental law of cause and effect he said service is the cause and reward is the effect. The reason for his getting a small salary as a school teacher and a still smaller one as a preacher was because society was not paying more for that kind of service. Dr. Sheldon searched 11 years before he found that increased service increased reward, and decreased service decreased reward. Quantity, quality and mode of conduct were emphasized by the speaker as prime requisites of success.

The putting on of a course of the Sheldon school of business science in Appleton is under consideration and will be decided at a meeting of officers of the chamber of commerce within the next few days. At the conclusion of his address, Dr. Shepherd was showered with requests for a course by business men and manufacturers, some of whom employ several hundred men.

SEND INSTRUCTORS

Wherever a community course is put on the school sends several of its instructors and meetings are held in churches, school buildings and other public places. In all of these campaigns all of the teachers and clergymen and staffs of the local newspapers are given admission to the private lectures without cost as guests of the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Shepherd is no stranger to Appleton. He addressed audiences here on two previous occasions, the first time at a chautauqua and the second time at a Sunday school convention. In introducing the speaker, Hugh E. Coyett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said that years ago he was in the employ of Dr. Sheldon, who was then located in Chicago.

The speaker paid a tribute to Dr. W. S. Naylor of Lawrence college for the financial aid he rendered our soldiers while in Europe out of his private funds, several instances coming to his personal knowledge.

WHY OKLAHOMA IS IN TURMOIL
There is a significance to the chaotic condition which exists in Oklahoma that ought not to be lost upon the American people. As the circumstances surrounding the troubles in that state come to light two important facts seem to be clearly established. One is an excessive contempt for law, and the other is that back of this contempt lies the growing tendency in recent years to regulate everything and everybody by legislative enactment.
The Ku Klux Klan is essentially an outgrowth of lawlessness and of indifference on the part of the constituted authorities to crime and misdemeanors. In some sections of the country the Klan has sought to combat bootlegging and other violations of the eighteenth amendment. It has sought to punish those guilty of flagrant immorality, wife-beaters and men and women who make themselves public nuisances. The Klan has swept many sections of the country because of its strong appeal to the conscience of those who deplore lax law enforcement and unpunished law violation. It is to a large extent a protest against the lawlessness that certain radical movements in the country have sponsored and promoted. It represents a determination on the part of an element of citizens who are disgusted with social depravity, criminal practices and defiance of governmental authority to enforce order and respect for law.
The Klan reasons that the end justifies the means it employs, but it shuts its eyes to the fact that its own methods are unlawful and that one criminal act cannot cancel or cure another. Its very means defeat its purposes. However much this organization may be at fault in its usurpation of government and its attempt to set up mob rule, the American people cannot remain oblivious to the causes which have brought this secret order into existence. We refer here to the Klan's war upon vice and law defiance.
We have reached the point in our political history where the delinquencies of individuals with regard to law and of public officials with regard to its enforcement are a national peril. We doubt if there is any other country in the world where there is so much secret or open violation of law as in the United States. Much of this violation is done boastfully, and is regarded as a good joke on the authorities and as an evidence of cleverness. Some of it is justified on the ground that nobody cares, except a very few who are held to be fanatics.
The wealthy manufacturer becomes a party to bootlegging and moonshining, and when a strike occurs and his property is not given effective protection and rioting and damage follow, wonders why the law fails him, denounces the government and swears that the nation is headed toward ruin. The man who insists upon driving his automobile fifty miles an hour in defiance of the rights of others and to their peril wonders why robes are stolen from his car and why it is unsafe to leave it even under lock and key. The man who makes himself a community nuisance and who would "go up in smoke" if a policeman admonished him to correct his ways, racks his brain to understand why his flower beds are raided and his lawns despoiled.
We cannot expect one set of laws to be obeyed or enforced, and another to be disobeyed or ignored. We cannot expect contempt for authority in one direction and respect for it in another. We cannot assume the air of respectability one hour and stoop to low practices the next. We cannot expect an officer to wink at bootlegging and protect property. We cannot laugh about road houses and immoral dance pavilions and expect not to be annoyed by hoodlums and miscreants. We cannot flout the law with one hand and uphold it with the other.

We joke about making a mockery of the prohibition law and pretend to be startled by Herrin massacres. It is a curious commentary on our irrational thinking—perhaps on our failure to think at all. We profess to be shocked by a bank robbery or a highway hold-up, but think nothing of smuggling, gambling and stock frauds. Our most popular entertainments are prize-fighting and lurid moving pictures. Modern literature, music and art are of jazz quality. Is it any wonder our social and political institutions as we once knew them are no longer revered? Is it any wonder there is crime, rioting, the Ku Klux Klan and bolshevism? Is it any wonder that national discontent has reached proportions that frighten us when we sober up enough to take stock of it?

Politics are rotten in Oklahoma. The state is under martial law. There have been times in the last two or three years when Illinois, Louisiana and other states might well have been under military rule. Why? Because we have surfeited our statute books with fool laws and regulations we do not want and cannot enforce. Because we have tried to control every act and thought of the individual by law, with defiance and evasion as the inevitable consequence. Because our reformers have wrecked our morals and our conventions and conservatism by taking away our liberties. Because the government is up to its neck in our business, our habits and our diversions.

SPEED OF SHIPS
As a result of the disaster to the United States naval squadron off the Pacific coast in which twenty-three men lost their lives stringent measures probably will be promulgated by the navy department looking to more rigid regulation of the speed of naval vessels in foggy weather.

This is as it should be. In time of peace there is no reason for vessels to travel at high speed, incurring risk to themselves and to the crews they carry. The lives of the men on board and the preservation of the vessels, which represent huge outlays of money, are infinitely more valuable than the time which may be saved through running at high speed in foggy weather.

Secretary Denby has stated that the matter will be sifted to the bottom and that the results of the investigation will be studied for the purpose of preventing future accidents of a similar nature. The nation is not so much interested in the disciplining of any officer who may have been at fault as it is interested in the prevention of future disasters.

JAPAN'S LOSS
Figures probably as nearly accurate as any that will be compiled indicate that Japan's earthquake and fire loss reaches $932,500,000, or two per cent of the empire's national wealth. Japan's wealth is estimated at 90,000,000,000 yen, or about $45,000,000,000.

The loss is not so staggering as first thought for the evident reason that the area of devastation was in the consuming rather than the producing regions. The centers of production will carry on almost unhampered by death and financial loss. These storehouses of national wealth, continuing to send them products over the seven seas, serve as bulwarks in the problem of rehabilitation.

TODAY'S POEM
By Berton Bralley
SLANGILY SPEAKING
I like the bird who has the grit
To stick to things and never quit.
The duck who plays the same in style
And takes his bumpkins with a smile.
The bimbo who will risk a chance
On bucking fate and circumstance.
The gink who's kind and merry-hearted
But finishes what he has started.
The bozo who, when out of luck,
Won't whine and grovel and pass the buck.
Along with that I like the bloke
Who'll stake a fellow when he's broke.
A geek who will not let success
Affect his simple humanness.
A berry who has learned to play
And loaf at times along the way.
A joe who, once he is your friend,
You can depend on to the end.

WHERE THE STOMACH LIES
A great many patients are worrying themselves sick over what they imagine is a dislocation or malposition of the stomach, whereas it is nothing of the kind.
Dr. Richard F. Chase found that in healthy young college students the lower border of the stomach in the median line averaged a finger nail breadth above the navel, and the position varied from 2 1/4 inches above to 1 1/2 inches below. In about half of the subjects the border was below the navel, especially in thin subjects—all normal, healthy subjects, remember.

A famous surgeon, Munro says: "We find on opening abdomens in which there is no stomach trouble that the lower border of the stomach is more commonly below the navel than other observers suppose, and I believe there is yet a great deal of work to be done to settle the question of the normal position of the stomach in healthy individuals."
Drs. MacLaren and Daugherty, surgeons and X-ray workers, state: "Early in our observation we found that many stomachs were markedly prolapsed (sagging downward), but their owners had perfect digestion—but when we found that most healthy women and many healthy men had stomachs sagging well into the pelvis we came to the conclusion that in the upright position the pylorus was usually a pelvis organ."

Cheer up, dyspeptics and wearers of abdominal supporters. "Where Is My Wandering Stomach Tonight" is no longer a popular song. Place your hand on the place where you naturally imagine your heart beats and thank your stars you have a stomach at all.
Do some victims of ptosis or sagging of the stomach suffer great digestive disturbances as a result, notwithstanding Drs. Chase, Munro, MacLaren and Daugherty? They do. And are these digestive disturbances relieved by treatment designed to relieve the displacements? They surely are. Then why do the doctors disagree about this? Is it just force of habit? No. It is this way:
Practically every civilized human being has defective eyesight. A perfectly normal eye is almost inconceivable. Yet only a few of us with bad eyes suffer any discomfort, not nearly so many of us as wear glasses. Most of us have sufficient strength to cope with any slight strain or drain on energy. Some of us feel the drain or strain and have to wear glasses to overcome the drain on our small capital. Some thing applies in the matter of ptosis or prolapse or sagging of the stomach. If we are strong and well we are unaware where our stomach lies and we don't care a hang. If our vitality is poor, if our strength is worn down from any cause, then we may begin to feel the strain, and support or other relief becomes necessary.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Queer Ideas People Have
But I don't care to go to a dentist for fear I may get blood poisoning.—M. V. J.
Answer—No doubt a great deal more blood poisoning occurs from failure to go to the dentist or from postponing necessary dental treatment than can possibly be associated with any treatment administered by a reputable dentist. Take so-called "ulcerated tooth," for instance. Immediate extraction—if the dentist considers the tooth damaged beyond reasonable hope of repair—is always the safest treatment; procrastination, pending cessation of the inflammation or subsidence of the swelling, is always fraught with risk of blood poisoning. So to put it truthfully, you ought to go to the dentist without delay in order to insure yourself against possible blood poisoning.

ON THE SCREEN
NORMA TALMADGE IN SCREEN REVIVAL
When Joseph M. Schenck selected "The Heart of Wotona" as a vehicle for beautiful Norma Talmadge he conferred a real boon on all true devotees of the motion picture, while his casting of Thomas Meighan in the leading male role was a masterpiece. This famous play with George Scarborough wrote for David Belasco and which proved to be one of that great impresario's most notable successes, did much to bring fame to its stage star, Lenore Ulric.

The Selznick Pictures Corporation has just revived this picture and it will be presented at the New Bijou Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The story centers about Wotona, a half Indian girl who falls in love with Anthony Wells, (Gladden James), a good-for-nothing boy who wrongs the innocent little Indian girl. Quannah, Wotona's father, and chief of a "tribe of Comanches, learns that Wotona is not the virtuous girl he has always supposed her to be. She refuses to

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT STAND

Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

Glens Falls, N. Y. "For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation might be necessary. I read testimonials about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four, and my sewing and my washing, which I think is remarkable, as I had not dared to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. I truly feel that were it not for your medicine, I would not be here today as my case seemed very serious."—Mrs. GEORGE W. BURCHELL, Glens Falls, N. Y.

Recreation Department Classes Are Organizing For Season's Work

Opening clubs and classes of Appleton Women's club were attended on Monday evening by 128 members of the recreation department. The credit for getting the largest number of members for the department during the two weeks drive went to team of which Miss Linda Hummel was the head.

That team secured 50 of the entire 221 who were signed up for the department during campaign. Miss Laura Rogers' team secured 46 members and Miss Mabel Sibley's 34. The largest percentage of members was attained by the Fair store, all of whose force but one joined the club. Through the efforts of the girls in that store, two others joined the club thus making it more than a 100 per cent record for the group.

Fifty bowlers were at the meeting at the Playhouse. There are now enough bowlers registered to fill the alleys at the Arcade on two nights and have two teams left over. In order that these two teams may make arrangements to play an effort will be made to get three more teams to fill the alleys for another night.

The ukelele club has new members which make its total more than 50. Thirty girls were present for the first meeting of the aesthetic dancing class and four girls are planning for the future of the glee club.

On Tuesday evening, the dramatic workshop, arts and crafts class, mosaic and strenuous gymnasium will take place. A teachers class in folk dancing has been arranged for Wednesday evening to be followed by the scout leaders class. The leaders are urged to be at the club at 7 o'clock to take the folk dancing work in connection with their leaders work.

FEED STORE YIELDS $1.80 TO BURGLARS
Kaukauna—An unidentified person broke into the Peter Gerend feed store on Second-st. Sunday evening and stole $1.60 from the cash drawer. Entrance was gained through the back door. Local police believe the robbery was committed by the same persons who broke into four business establishments here one night last week, and who took only small change in each case.

Hotel Owner Leaves Ring On Lobby Desk
Kaukauna—Diamond rings don't grow on bushes, neither are they found every day on writing tables in hotel lobbies. It's a dead cinch that even the most honest man in the world wouldn't leave a "sparkler" lay on a table in front of him if he were fortunate enough to find one there radiating in a sort of "come and take me" way. That's why Mrs. Paul H. V. Fagel, proprietress of Hotel Kaukauna, left her ring Monday afternoon after she inadvertently left it on the table in the lobby.

The police department was notified of the loss and Officer James McFadden was detailed to visit a witness in Appleton who was in the hotel shortly before the ring was missed. The visit was fruitful, the ring was returned by the man who discovered it with apparently no owner and no arrests were made.

BABY'S FINGERS CAUGHT IN GEARS, MIGHT LOSE HAND

Baker's Daughter Terribly Injured While Mother Answers Telephone

Kaukauna—Childish curiosity may result in the loss of the entire right hand of Valoise Kalupa, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kalupa, 100 East Seventh-st. The child's hand and fingers were badly mangled about 2:30 Monday afternoon when she put her fingers into a small opening in the guard casing of gear wheels which operate the dough mixer in the Kalupa bakery.

The girl was rushed to St. Elizabeth hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the fore finger and middle finger and the tips of her ring and little fingers. Doctors patched up the back of her hand in an attempt to save it and it signs of healing develop from another part of the child's body will be grafted on. The wrist also was broken.

The child put her hand into the gears while her mother was answering the telephone, leaving the baby alone in the room. Before Mrs. Kalupa could pull the switch to stop the machine, the hand had been horribly mangled.

The big gear which engages with the smaller gear on the main shaft from motor was guarded with a heavy casing of iron, leaving only a narrow opening not more than 1 1/2 inches wide and perhaps slightly longer. When the child's fingers were caught in the mesh of the gears, however, her whole hand was drawn in. It was necessary to remove the casing and loosen the gears before the hand could be taken away.

LEVEZOW AUTO IS WRECKED IN DITCH

Wilbur Levezow And Theodore Main Hurt Only Slightly In Tipover Saturday

Special to Post-Crescent
Stephensville—Although their Ford sedan rolled into a ditch while going at a fast clip and was reduced to wreckage, Wilbur Levezow, son of Levi Levezow, and Theodore Main of this village, emerged with only a few scratches and minor bruises. The accident happened about 10:30 Saturday night while Levezow was driving the machine on a country road about two miles out of Stephensville. The young men declared that their lights had gone out while driving, which prevented them from seeing James Prunty's automobile parked beside the highway. They turned out too far to avoid the machine when it loomed into sight suddenly, and the sedan turned over into the ditch. Mr. Prunty's car had run out of gasoline, and he drove it well to the side of the road while he returned to Stephensville to obtain some. He had just gotten back to the automobile when the accident happened. He extricated the pair from the wreckage and took them back to Stephensville, where examination showed that they were hurt only slightly.

The Levezow automobile was damaged so badly that only the chassis remains.

Special tonight for Al. Giesen. Green Bay bus will leave Pettibone's corner 8:30 sharp. All ladies free. Gents 50 cents.

The fender of Mr. Wussow's car on the left side were badly bent and one front wheel was broken off. Mr. Meier's Ford roadster was minus a front wheel, and the front fenders were bent badly.

OSHKOSH AUTOISTS ORGANIZE TO MAKE CAR DRIVING SAFER

Chamber Of Commerce Here Is Asked To Back Movement Started In Valley

Appleton Chamber of Commerce and other community organizations of the Fox river valley have been asked by Oshkosh Association of Commerce to join in a movement to make the valley safe for motorists. This is to be accomplished by a Safe Drivers club which has been launched at Oshkosh with 28 charter members and 73 applicants.

The club held its first meeting in Oshkosh and adopted rules which will be printed and distributed to the members. They provide for signals, stops, methods of approach in various contingencies and various precautions to avoid confusion or traffic accidents. The membership is to be one dollar a year. J. J. Grace, assistant secretary of Oshkosh Association of Commerce is the secretary.

The members of the club, in addition to using caution in driving at all times, are pledged to make report of all actual violations of laws and ordinances and of rules of the club. There is to be a special committee whose duty it will be to investigate such violations and in instances where it is justified, complaint to the officials may be made and prosecutions will follow.

The purposes of the safe drivers' club are set forth in the following preamble to the rules:

"In the forming of this club, there is no intent to dictate nor to take away from any one his rights as an American citizen.

"Owing to the fact that the motor driven vehicles have multiplied rapidly and our city streets were not laid out for such additional congestion of traffic, and that there is no state law requiring drivers to qualify for individual licenses, it is apparent to everyone that some universal set of driving rules ought to be adopted."

LUNCH PRECEDES RURAL MEETING

Preparations will be made for a large attendance at this meeting, which will be addressed by F. G. Swoboda, of Plymouth, general manager of the Wisconsin Cheese federation, and E. L. Luther, superintendent of farm-ers' institutes of the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Swoboda spoke at a meeting in August but did not go into the details of cooperative marketing.

The Appleton delegation will leave the chamber of commerce in automobiles at 6:30 Thursday evening. The hall is reached by driving west on highway 18 to Leppia corners, and turning to left on Highway 22, which passes the hall.

Both Cherry-st and Lawest bidge sites, on both sides of the river, were visited by hundreds of people on Sunday. BEWARE IMPOSTORS, TWO PASTORS WARN

Members of St. Mary and St. Joseph parishes were warned on Sunday that a group of men representing themselves to be Catholic students working for scholarships by selling Catholic magazines had no recommendations from the pastors of either church. While the young men were not definitely accused of being impostors, the people were told that usually when a secular solicitor comes into a community with a recommended proposition, his first call is on the pastor, who is asked for a local endorsement.

Catholics in the city were urged on Sunday to ask for this recommendation before they gave any money or subscriptions to secular solicitors. On several occasions in the past, impostor students have collected from the parishes in this city.

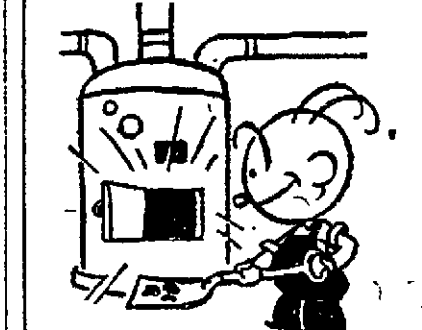

TWO FAST DRIVERS JOIN SPEEDER CLUB

Two speeders, both arrested by Willbur Bogan, county motorcycle officer, Sunday were fined $10 and costs by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Monday morning. James VanderLous was driving 40 miles an hour in Greenville, and Herbert Ludwig was driving at the same rate of speed in Vandenbrook, according to the officer.

Phillip Merkes, 544 Second ave., was arrested for drunkenness at 9:45 Sunday evening by Joseph Bayer, Appleton motorcycle officer in municipal court Monday he was fined $6 and costs which amounted to $4.30.

Payment of the court costs amounting to $3.40 by Alvin Redik of Menasha was ordered by Judge Spencer, when he admitted driving an automobile without the proper license. He said he had used the wrong license plate on the car. Redik was arrested by Officer Bayer Saturday.

Lincoln School Children Keep Grounds Clean

At a special City Beautiful program at the Lincoln school on Monday morning, prizes of $10 were given to Carlton Root and to Volney and Vincent Burgess for their summer gardens. The prizes were awarded in accounts by the Citizens National bank in connection with the civics department of Appleton Womans club under whose direction the garden contest was conducted.

A little play showing how the city beautiful committee of the Lincoln school works to keep the school grounds clean was given. Miss Alice Taylor introduced the members of the committee for the year and told of its plans for the coming months. In the play, the actual excuses which the rule people give for being careless about the school grounds were used.

GOES TO JAIL FOR BREAKING PAROLE

Breaking his two-year parole has brought George Muench back into jail. He was arrested several months ago for breaking into the Adolph Schneder resort on the upper Fox river and stealing a revolver. He was paroled for two years under the state board of control. On Saturday, however, he took to drinking moonshine at Black Creek. He had previously been working on the roads for the county highway department. He is charged with failure to provide properly for the support of his family.

He glanced behind him. "You fellows should be pretty fresh by now. I fancy I'll try a sortie with my own chaps—and you can follow with the second wave, mopping up everything we've left behind."

"I'll toss you for it," suggested Dawson.

"Be hanged to you!" laughed the other. "I'm in command here and I'm going to handle the first attack."

He blew a shrill blast on his whistle and, before Dawson could realize what was happening, Clay was gone with thirty odd shadows flitting after him.

Dawson waited fully five minutes by his wrist watch, then, crawling back, mused his men.

"Fix bayonets. Not a sound until I tell you. Spread out in skirmishing order and don't lose your heads!"

Really, the boys were often capable of astonishing feats. Dawson scaled the slope with the agility of an antelope. Wild-eyed, keen with enthusiasm to come up with Clay, he paused to round up those of the enemy that had escaped the initial onslaught.

A bullet drilled a hole in his topee and Dawson laughed aloud. A knot of fanatics—running short of ammunition—halted their approach with the clatter of rocks. Dawson dispatched the first man with his pistol and the remainder took to their heels to fall upon the bayonets of the last of Clay's party. There followed a period of breathless, hand-to-hand fighting and presently he woke to the sudden realization that they were on the level ground in fierce pursuit of the last defenders of gradient.

Clay's voice belated after him.

"Dawson! Dawson! come back here! We've gained our objective and it won't pay us to go farther."

The D. O. retired with evident reluctance.

He found Clay with his back against a rock, binding up his hand with strips from his handkerchief.

"Nothing to speak of. You are all right!"

Dawson felt himself all over.

"Not even a blight!" It's very disappointing. When I get back to my little log-hut in the trees, nobody'll believe I took part in the scrap at all!"

Clay was sucking at the stem of an empty briar.

"I'll give you a certificate to that effect. I think we've been able to put ourselves on the back. We're in occupation of the entire ridge plenty of cover and a clear view of Chai-Hung's headquarters."

He knotted the improvised bandage and drew it taut with his teeth. "The Yellow Seven are hemmed in on the plateau. Pennington is advancing on our extreme right. Rabat-Pilat is in charge of the left flank. Behind the earthenwork they've chucked up there's a sheer drop of eight hundred feet."

Dawson borrowed Clay's binoculars and in the first gray light of approaching dawn, focused them on a broad, squat pile of rockwork barely a quarter of a mile ahead. A pole jutted from the center of this mass and from it swung a yellow flag.

"Better get a stretcher party to work," he remembered suddenly.

"I've told my sergeant already."

He glanced back and saw Pennington coming up the slope. His left arm was in a sling and there was a broad strip of plaster across one cheek.

Pennington dropped to the earth and lay on his stomach, his chin pillowed in his hands. "Dawson, I want you to take over my section. I'm fixing up grub for everybody. The sun'll be up in a few minutes, there'll be a quick breakfast after which we embark upon the second part of our program. Clay, your party—together with a further platoon I'm sending you—will advance a couple of hundred yards and take cover. Dawson, you'll want to go a bit farther—say three hundred. Rabat-Pilat will do the same. At seven I'm going to open out with the fifteen pounder."

A runner trotted up the incline and halted before them.

"The Tuan Pennington?"

The man with the Chinese eyes took the message from his hand. Dawson, watching him curiously, saw the color vanish from his cheeks. He sat, stock still, facing at the note as if unable to comprehend its meaning.

"What is it?" demanded Clay.

Pennington started.

"It's from Hewitt," he said. "He hasn't been able to get away, but hopes to join us before it's all over. Monica disappeared two days ago. She was going to the Governor's."

house at Sandakan—and didn't turn up."

"That's Mrs. Viney—Pennington's fiancée," explained Dawson. "This is terrible, Penn. You don't think Chai-Hung has had anything to do with this?"

Pennington rose to his feet.

"I don't know what to think. It's knocked me pretty hard."

"What are you going to do?"

"Carry on," said Pennington with a touch of bitterness.

Dawson, flattened down against the rock, barely a hundred paces from the main objective, saw the seventh round send a wall toppling drunkenly inward.

"Good man!" he murmured exultantly, then groped for his rifle. Four more rounds followed in quicker succession—and the D. O. rubbed his fat hands together. Chai-Hung's lair was crumbling from its very foundations.

One main wall, of enormous boulders stood alone behind a heap of ruins and he guessed that this remaining rampart sheltered all that was left of the bandit's followers. To all intents and purposes the day was won.

And then, as he brought his gaze back to the wall, he saw a figure standing very erect on its summit: a man of enormous proportions in a white drill tunic and baggy silk trousers. He did not need the assistance of binoculars to recognize Chai-Hung.

Within a matter of seconds, a second form had joined him, pushed from below by unseen hands. In a flash there dawned upon him the meaning of that maneuver of the early hours, the band that had broken through carrying something slung from a pikul.

His senses reeled.

"For God's sake stop that damned ruck!" he caught himself screaming aloud, writhing in the agony of his impotence. He jammed his fingers in his ears and tried in vain to draw his eyes from the girl who, bound hand and foot, just balancing on the jagged surface of rock, looked death in the face unflinchingly.

He had always admired Monica. Had even cherished hopes of her herself until Pennington had stepped in. The sight of her standing there by the side of Chai-Hung maddened him. He tried to collect his thoughts and as he did so, the real significance of that solitary rampart was borne upon him. Clay had told him after their first attack that behind the rude fortress was a sheer drop of eight hundred feet. Her presence there was a warning to Pennington to cease fire.

He wriggled into the shelter of the next boulder ahead, conscious only of a desire to do something. Twenty yards from the wall, he realized that the firing had stopped. As he watched his opportunity to scramble under the wall itself, his eye caught a second figure far to his right, a short, swarthy scarecrow with a long knife between his teeth.

"Rabat-Pilat! The creature passed out of sight and Dawson lay very still while all around reigned a silence that tugged at his nerve-strings. The sun beat mercilessly down on him and he shifted his battered topee back over the apex of his nose, wondering all the time what Chai-Hung's next move would be.

Suddenly, from their own lines, a single rifle-shot rang out. The man on the wall clapped a hand to his side, then swung his arm forward as if to send his victim tottering backward.

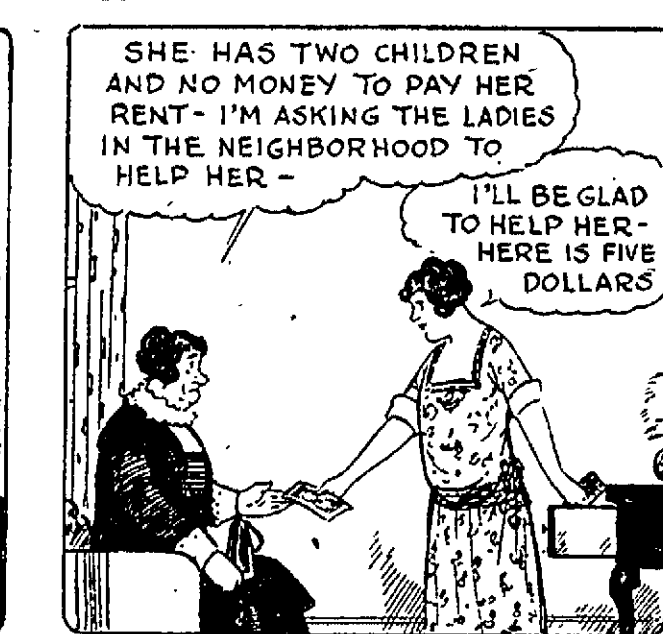

Dawson cursed the fellow under his breath. It was a sheer madness to pick off the bandit, for he stood so close to the girl that the faintest touch must assuredly carry her with him.

A rock, dislodged from somewhere, slid into space, and two hands appeared on the wall, inches only from where the girl stood. Impelled from behind, she slid forward with a little scream into the ruins, and Chai-Hung turned with a snarl upon—Chinese Pennington. He had discarded his sling, but Dawson could see that his wounded arm pained him greatly.

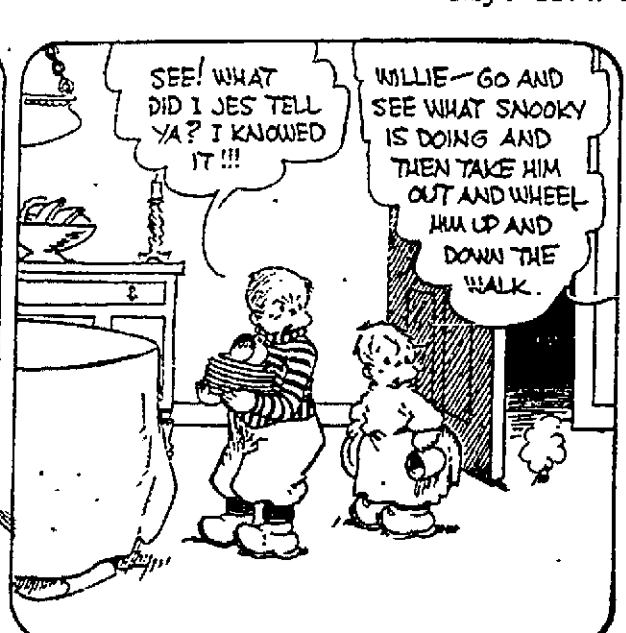

As if at a given signal, the attacking force rose and advanced at the double; but Dawson, anxious only for the safety of Monica and his best friend, blundered ahead of them into the shattered stronghold. He found Hewitt's sister, bruised but uninjured, half-buried in a heap of debris

FIND NEW FUEL TO INCREASE POWER OF AUTOMOBILES

Chemist's Dream Of 50 Miles On Gallon Fuel Is Nearing Realization

A few months ago, C. F. Kettering, president of the General Motors Chemical company, a subsidiary of General Motors, near Dayton, Ohio, predicted an average of 50 miles to a gallon of gasoline in four years.

Only recently, Kettering's firm came out with a new fuel which may produce the result he prophesied.

The fuel is called Ethyl Gas and consists of ordinary commercial gasoline to which a small quantity of Ethyl fluid has been added. It is the result of long and patient experiment, in the General Motors research laboratories here, during which automobiles were run hundreds of thousands of miles on this and other test fuels.

In the tests more than 2,500 substances were tried out, until the one finally adopted was found to be commercially practicable. The fuel is a wine-colored liquid, the color being caused by the Ethyl fluid.

"KNOCKS" STUDIED

What brought on the decision of the General Motors engineers to find a new fuel was the trouble motorists have been experiencing with knocking. Through research into this bugaboo of motoring by Thomas Midgely, Jr., now general manager of the chemical company that is producing Ethyl gas, brought him to the conclusion that "knocking" was not caused by faulty ignition or by carbon igniting the gas before the spark could.

Instead, he discovered this phenomenon was due to a high-pressure gas wave, traveling at high velocity striking the side of the combustion chamber or top of the piston. Considerable damage could be done by this wave, even to wrecking the engine.

THE REMEDY

On this hypothesis, General Motors engineers sought a remedy and finally came upon Ethyl Gas as the solution. They figured that if the compression of the engine could be increased, greater power and economy could be obtained. But increased compression produced the knock, which they finally have been able to forestall by the use of the Ethyl Gas as fuel.

Addition of only one-tenth of one per cent by volume of the Ethyl fluid to the gasoline is said to be enough to produce the desired result. Its use is said to eliminate loss of power, waste of gasoline and carbonization.

It is a step toward the fulfillment of Kettering's prediction of 50 miles on a gallon of fuel.

STAGE

RUDY WIEDEOFT

Music lovers in general and saxophone "fans" in particular will be interested in the announcement recently made by Wm. H. Nolan, local Victor dealer, that Rudy Wiedoeft is coming again with the Eight Popular Victor Artists, at the Memorial chapel on Thursday evening, September 27, at 8:15.

Last season these artists gave a truly remarkable concert which caused much favorable comment, and Wiedoeft surprised many by his "stunt" playing on the saxophone. They heard things on the stage that they had never heard in his records, because even the modern Victrola has certain limitations in that it sometimes fails to reproduce the artist's personality.

Although the saxophone was invented in Paris in 1846 by a man named Sax, it's use in orchestra work dates back only about ten years. The modern "jazz" orchestra must be given credit for the great opportunity of the instrument, although it is now in general use in the larger symphony orchestras.

About ten years ago, Rudy Wiedoeft who was a clarinetist with a Detroit orchestra, decided to give the saxophone serious study. At about the same time he heard the call of the west and migrated to Los Angeles. It is said that Wiedoeft exhibited the first saxophone on the Pacific coast. At first the funny looking instrument was laughed at, but not so with the music it produced when in Wiedoeft's hands. Other musicians, borrowed the instrument for a try-out and liked it. Soon there came an insistent demand from Los Angeles for saxophones, and the demand spread throughout the country.

Freight Charges And War Tax Make Dent In Auto Buyer's Bankroll

Dealers Figure "Delivery Cost" Of New Cars As Close As Possible—Uncle Sam Gets Share Of Cost

The letters F. O. B. cover a multitude of sins, in the opinion of some automobile buyers, but they are also sometimes a stumbling block for ignorance, echo the garage dealers.

A man recently saved a little sum of money with which to buy the car he had been waiting to buy for years. The Saturday Evening Post advertised it at $1,250. The man took his little pile to the garage and ordered his twelve hundred fifty dollar's worth. But the dealer informed him in advance that the cost of delivery would be more than $100 extra. The customer was unprepared for this and found himself set back nearly another month's wages.

A misunderstanding of the term Freight on Board, caused the confusion. The customer considered the Appleton F. O. B. price, instead of F. O. B. place of manufacture. He had not considered the cost of freight. He had also forgotten that Uncle Sam has not yet removed the war tax of 5 per cent on the factory cost of automobiles.

WOULD CHANGE ADS

"We would rather advertise our cars according to the delivery price instead of the factory F. O. B.," said one dealer. "But the custom would have to be universal to be practical. The prices would be misleading, as one dealer would list a car at one price and another dealer would be apparently underselling or overselling him. What RYE, notuo tciotlat xrbhTsch as is more, our advertising material is stereotyped by the factory, and the factory could not very well quote the delivery price as that would not be the same in every city on account of the difference in freight. A separate advertisement would have to be furnished each locality, and this would mean additional and unnecessary expense."

The dealer added, however, that he always quotes the delivery price to customer and informs him just what he will have to pay in addition to the factory price. The same custom was

ing chains, bumpers, extra tire, tire tube cover, monogram, etc.

"In the case of our lower priced cars," the dealer said, "we do not put the extra equipment on the car, for the reason that the buyer may not want all of it. On the higher priced car the equipment is considered absolutely essential and is charged for in the price of the car."

In times of freight car shortage and for purposes of quick delivery, garage men sometimes send employees to drive the automobiles home from the factories. The freight is charged just the same, as it costs about the same amount as the freight charges let alone the time lost in getting the car, it was said.

Due dealers prefer to have cars shipped in, as it relieves them of the responsibility while the car is in transit. Collision liability in the case of new automobiles is a serious problem for the dealers. If a customer has a vacation to spend and prefers to get the car from the factory, he assumes the responsibility for the car after it leaves the factory. If it is sold through, the dealer repairs for a certain period of time. If the car should be bought direct from the factory, the buyer would have no place to demand restitution except by taking the car to the factory.

How to tell for sure —what oil your car needs

No. 5 in the series

Perhaps you own a Chevrolet

(Superior or 490)

If you don't own a Chevrolet, cut this out and hand it to a friend who does

Your Chevrolet engine is of valve-in-head construction and designed for high compression pressures of approximately 87 pounds.

The lubricating system is of the splash circulating type. The gear type oil pump is in an exposed position directly in back of the radiator, and is considerably above the level of the oil in the reservoir. There are long lengths of exposed oil piping on both the suction and discharge sides of the pump.

All engine parts except the centre crank-shaft bearing are lubricated by an oil mist caused by the dipping of the connecting rod splashers in the oil troughs provided under each cylinder. Oil is forced under pressure to the centre crank-shaft bearing.

Carbon deposits in this engine, because of the high compression pressures and combustion chamber construction, are particularly objectionable. Correct lubrication is essential to the maintenance of high efficiency. Gargoyle Mobiloil Arctic will leave a minimum of carbon deposits, and is of the correct body and character to provide adequate engine lubrication under all operating conditions.

The use of Gargoyle Mobiloil Arctic both summer and winter will assure correct engine lubrication and lead to the satisfactory performance you have a right to expect of your Chevrolet.

Financing The Farm

"Farmers need banking service more than do most men in other vocations" is the claim of one of our farmer patrons.

Continuing he said "harvests mature in the summer and fall and I usually receive payment for them soon after they are harvested. I have found that cream and milk checks will usually care for running expenses and that money from produce, grains and stock, when deposited in the bank, are the best possible insurance against financial troubles in the spring when seed and machinery is required."

LAWRENTIANS BATTLE NORMALS IN GRID OPENER

Lawrence Gridders Meet Stevens Point Eleven Here Sept. 29

Blue And White Squads Have Defeated Mentors Three Years In Succession By Hard Fighting

Lawrence will open its 1923 football season Saturday with a contest against the Stevens Point Normals on the Lawrence field. According to reports, almost the entire Stevens Point High school squad of last year, which made a strong bid for state honors has enrolled with the Normal.

For the past three years, the Blue and White squads have succeeded in snatching victory from the budding mentors. Last year Lawrence won, 12 to 0, in 1921 the Normals were shut out, 20 to 0, and in 1920 they went down to a 10 to 3 defeat. It was only after extremely hard battling that the Lawrence stars were able to vanquish their opponents in these contests, and indications are that they will have to work harder than ever before this year.

BLACKBOURN SEEKS RECORD

Lytle Blackburn, star tackle of his school for three years, captains the squad again this year, and will try to run the string of football championships to four in order to equal the Lawrence record of 1911 to 1914. Blackburn as fullback and Kinney as half look like all state prospects this year, and Gander, Packard and Remington show great promise in the line. Pagenkopf, a new man, shows signs of making his mark as an end.

Up to date the following candidates have been turning out regularly: Ends, Stoll, Berry, Christopher, Tackles, Blackburn, Kinney, Gander, Guards, Packard, LaRoux, Quarterbacks, Remington, Weinkauf, Quarterbacks, Kotal, Zuseman, Half, Goan, Kinney, Morrisson, Full, Grignon, Boettcher, and Currie.

Kinks of the Links

When looking for a lost ball, what does the etiquette of golf call for said players to do relative to matches coming up?

Players looking for a lost ball should always allow other matches coming up to pass them. It is customary to so signal players who are following. Having given such a signal it is a rule of golf not to continue their play, even though they should find the ball immediately after signalling the other players to pass them.

In a four-ball match, through the green, a player plays when an opponent should have done so. If the mistake is noticed should the stroke be recalled? What if a similar thing happens on the putting green? Is

Some Hints For Hunters

BY MORRIS ACKERMAN

This is the time of the year when every fish and game writer, every local paper and every outdoor magazine in the land comes to the fore with a full crop of "Dont's" addressed to the hunter. They're all afraid we might hurt ourselves. Here are a few home-grown ones the other fellow might overlook:

Farmers do not "wear" white handkerchiefs. Hustle around to the five and ten and buy a few blue or red bandannas. A nifty bandanna has saved me many a stiff order to move.

A red shirt and a red cap might make you look like a member of the Northwest Mounted Police BUT you'll never be mistaken for a buck deer.

When you go hunting with a fellow you are "just teaching the game," figure your day's shoot as lost, and forget it. Stay behind. Emulate the wise ruffed grouse. Keep a tree between your tail feathers and the friend.

A 22 rifle will kill a man. It seldom falls. Twenty-twos and small woods can well afford to get a divorce.

A rattled deer hunter can miss a buck in his front door but when he shoots at a rustle in the bushes he never misses.

Having once received a flock of number sixes in my lookout I find it well not to make a joke out of the fellow who is sneaking up on my wooden decoys.

Field glasses, compasses, skinning knives and camp axes weigh something, tumbled up. Where you are hunting deer, bear and moose with a guide who furnishes outfit, you might better make up that extra weight with a dozen cans of sardines.

Where there are tracks there must be game. Tracks are hard to locate with the naked eye. Sheep, goat and grizzlies live above timber-line. A good pair of field glasses on a mountain top may save a twenty-mile walk.

Far be it from me to advise you to put your gun, shooting end out, through the fence first; to look before you shoot; to keep snow and other obstructions out of your gun and rifle barrels and all that sort of thing. I'll let the other fellow do that!

MAYEFSKI'S BEAT RIVAL CLUB, 11-5

Mayefski's tribe Sunday humbled the Appleton Rivals, 11 to 5, in a contest marked by poor fielding on the part of the losers. This and lack of teamwork in running bases lost the game for the Rivals. In spite of four errors by the Regulars, Joe Mayefski's offerings were batted all over the lot, but excellent fielding combined with the fact that the hits were scattered saved him from disaster. A spectacular catch of a line drive in the sixth by Rehfeldt featured the otherwise poor work of the Rivals.

Brautigan retired seven men by the strikeout route. Mayefski five. Each of the two hurlers walked one man. Brautigan allowed nine hits, while Joe Mayefski permitted eleven.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Down south they haven't much use for Joe Jackson, one of the leading lights in the old Black Sox gang. A number of collegiate stars associated with Jackson on the diamond this year, and as a result, they have been barred from all college athletic activity. They sure run things with an iron hand down below the Mason-Dixie line.

Jack Dempsey has come forth with a bit of advice to Luis Firpo. No indeed, the champion is not telling the Pampas Bull how to hit. However, the title holder thinks that a real trainer would make the South American a greatly improved fighter matter. Dempsey thinks Firpo does too much as he pleases while in training. Probably Jack got this food for thought from some of the stories that have appeared about Firpo's appetite for chile con carne.

Coach Ryan isn't allowing his Badger football squad to lie idle on Sunday. He liked them a few miles on the Sabbath day just for the sake of exercise. At least that was Ryan's excuse for prancing them out in the country. The Wisconsin coach is pulling every string to put his squad in shape and they are beginning to think down at Madison that Richards' successor is going to turn out a winning combination.

There is gloom in Beloit, as the Simons' Bedmakers of Kenosha won the pennant in the Mid-West league. The Fairies were rated as one of the highest paid clubs in Independent baseball circles. But Boss Chubb had his troubles this season and several times the Fairbanks-Morse combination slumped badly. The Fairies were figured sure winners in this loop but the Bedmakers up and surprised. They ought to have let Baldy Zabel umpire the game.

The next attraction for the professional football fans in Northwestern Wisconsin is scheduled at Green Bay on Sunday when the Packers will give battle to the Minneapolis Marines. The Minnesota champs have played here twice and in each encounter they gave Lambeau's aggregation the toughest kind of a battle. This year Manager Dunn has another classy team and he predicts an upset for Green Bay.

CHAMPS SURVIVE FIRST ROUND OF 'PRO' GOLF MEET

List Of Victors Includes Barnes, Sarazen, And Walter Hagen

Pelham Manor, N. Y.—All the stars survived the first thirty-six hole round matches on Monday in the Professional Golfers' association championship, played over the crooked undulating, heavily wooded course of the Pelham Country club. Some of the stars had easy tasks, others' had more trouble than they expected, yet all pulled through.

Long Jim Barnes, the Pelham pro, needed to go only twenty-five holes to defeat young George Dornbach of East Providence, R. I. Barnes was two under par for the twenty-five. Dornbach was in trouble on nearly every hole. Gene Sarazen, 1922 champion, shook off Lloyd Gulickson of Columbus, O., after they had played even for nine holes, and won, 8 and 7.

Sarazen won the first three holes of the match, halved the next three and lost the seventh, eighth and ninth. Then he gathered himself together and took a lead that Gulickson could never cut down.

Walter Hagen found a sticker in George Griffin of Clearfield, Pa., but managed by some of his super golf to defeat him, 4 and 3. Hagen laid four stymies on the first eighteen, but Griffin held on even terms. On the twelfth hole in the afternoon round occurred one of golf's queerest shots.
